

TIME CLAUSES

They are used to say
when something happens or as conjunctions.

when

after

As soon as

until

before

since

while

as

When, while and as.

- They can be used for two events happening at the same time, with the meaning during the time.

The earthquake occurred when/while/
as they were sleeping.

=

As soon as= immediately after

- As soon as Anthony left the house, it started to rain.

Before=earlier than

She left before I could tell her something.

After

- After everyone is gone from the party, we 're going to clean up all the mess

Until, till

- I won't travel to London until/till I have enough money.

